1. Agreement

These terms are an agreement between you and Escape Enterprises LLC. By using Escape you agree to them and to our Privacy Policy. If you don't agree, please don't use Escape.

If you use Escape on iOS, Apple's Standard End User License Agreement also applies. Where it conflicts with these terms, these terms apply between you and us.

2. Self-care, not medical care

Escape and Lucille offer self-care and wellbeing support. They are not therapy, counseling or medical care, and they don't diagnose or treat any condition. Talk to a doctor or licensed professional about your health.

If you might be in danger: Call or text 988 (Suicide & Crisis Lifeline, US) · Text HOME to 741741 (Crisis Text Line) · Call 911 in an emergency · Outside the US: findahelpline.com.

3. Lucille is an AI

Lucille is software, not a person. Her replies are generated by AI services (OpenAI, and Anthropic for adults in our opt-in experiment) and can be wrong, incomplete or unsuitable. Use your own judgment and don't rely on them for medical, legal, financial or safety decisions.

If a reply seems wrong or unsafe, tap Report on it. We review reports and may change Lucille or remove content.

4. Your account and age

You must be at least 13 to use Escape. If you're 13 to 17, you need a parent or guardian's permission, and some features (like partner rewards and AI experiments) aren't available. Keep your sign-in secure; you're responsible for activity on your account.

5. Free Preview and paid plans

Escape is free during the Free Preview. Before paid plans start, we'll tell you in advance; nothing is charged unless you choose a plan. Paid plans are billed by the App Store or Google Play, renew until you cancel in your store account at least 24 hours before renewal, and refunds follow the store's policies.

6. Coins and partner rewards

Coins are earned through activity. They have no cash value and can't be bought, sold or transferred. We may adjust coins to prevent abuse.

Partner rewards (for example, gift codes from brands) are limited, subject to availability and to the partner's own terms, and not available to users under 18. Redeeming a reward doesn't require turning on any permission.

7. Your content

You own what you create in Escape. You give us the permission needed to store and process it to run Escape for you, as described in the Privacy Policy. You can delete it at any time.

8. Acceptable use

Don't misuse Escape: no harassment, illegal content, attempts to get Lucille to produce harmful content, attempts to break security, scraping, or reselling access. We may limit or suspend accounts that put others at risk.

9. Our content

Escape's app, Soundscapes, Lucille's voice and character, the Innerverse and our brand belong to us or our licensors. You may use them only inside Escape for your personal use.

10. Disclaimers and liability

Escape is provided "as is" and "as available". To the extent the law allows, Escape Enterprises LLC isn't liable for indirect or consequential losses, and our total liability is limited to the greater of what you paid us in the past 12 months or $50. Some places don't allow these limits, so they may not apply to you.

11. Disputes

[confirm with counsel: governing law, venue, informal-resolution period, arbitration or small-claims terms, and class-action waiver, if any].

12. Changes, ending and contact

We may update these terms and will tell you in the app about significant changes. You can stop using Escape and delete your account at any time; we may end access if you break these terms.
